Boro Must Choose Higher Tax Rate or Fewer Services

viced boroughs. Dissenters may claim there is another reason, but it would seem to require a lot of special pleading to prove it.

The 15 mill maximum imposed on Narberth by the State pertains only to general borough expenses. The people may approve a bond issue for some addition or improvement, and the interest and sinking fund requirements of such bond issues may be added to the 15 mill limit. Over and above the 15 mills and the extra mills needed for bond issues, the State also allows the Borough to collect for "special services." These "special services" are carefully earmarked and include street lighting, library and shade trees. At the present time, Narberth's tax charge for these three items totals about 1 1/2 mills. The cost of "Debt Service" is now 1.5 mills. As indicated, both of the latter sums may be added to the 15 mills maximum for "General Borough Purposes" and still be within the law.

Now facing the Narberth officials is the fact that 15 mills are no longer sufficient for "General Borough Purposes," and if the people do not approve an additional amount for certain special things, it means that some well-established features of community routine must be curtailed or discontinued. There is a prospect that the question will soon hit the ballot, and that the voters will be asked to pass judgment on whether or not we shall pinch pennies or shall carry on the first-class procedure that has always found such general approval.

Fortunately, civic intelligence here is of an advanced order, and except in a highly mooted instance or two the voters have authorized every bond issue submitted to them. They are also sure to realize that citizens in the borough are getting far more for their tax-dollars than is the case in the city or hereabouts.

As regards Philadelphia, the figures seem to demonstrate that Narberth citizens pay less than one-half of city tax-costs. The explanation, of course, lies in the assessment. Philadelphia values a property up to the hilt. In Narberth, the basis is supposed to be 50% of replacement value. As a matter of fact, local assessments average less than a third of replacement cost. Nearly 20% of our properties changed hands during the last year or so, and the ratio of assessment to selling price averaged 2800:11,000. If assessments could be adjusted to current conditions, or at least partly so, there would be no need of a plebiscite on the tax-rates, as another million or so of taxables would easily solve the problem. Nothing can be done on that score, however, until 1948, and that's too long to wait.

THE SUBJECT calls for further review, and that will be done in succeeding issues. In the meantime it is suggested that a disposition to accept a higher title shall increase and that property-owners shall discuss among themselves, or by letters to the Editor, the course which should be followed to keep this home-town among the best-conducted of American suburban communities.

Penn Valley Man Gets Permanent Navy Citation

Lt. Comdr. Earl Heck Anderson, USNR, of Conshohocken State Rd., Penn Valley, husband of Mrs. Margaret G. Anderson, has received a permanent citation for his Bronze Star Medal from Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, for the President.

Comdr. Anderson, who has been released to inactive duty, received the award for conduct as Flag Secretary and Aide to the Commander South Atlantic Force. During the war, citations were temporary, or incomplete, for security reasons.

Text of the full citation is as follows:

"For meritorious service as Flag Secretary and Aide to the Commander South Atlantic Force, March 1, 1944, to July 2, 1945. Thoroughly experienced in law, Lt. Cdr. Anderson handled many legal and diplomatic negotiations with several South American Republics and, by his sound judgment, evaluated and solved numerous complex situations. His devotion to duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Hypnotic Demonstration

John F. Mansure will present a hypnotic demonstration Monday, Feb. 17, at 8 P. M., at Christ Church, Haverford and Manoa Rds., Overbrook Hills.

Proceeds of the program, sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of the church, will go toward the purchase of a sound motion picture projector.

Town Talk

By DOROTHY M. OGDEN

is... he's been doing government work since his graduation from Harvard, except for the time it took for him to serve through six African and European campaigns during the war.

AROUND THE TOWN... See that DICK WHITING, he's the son of the former Narbrook Park E. A. WHITING family, now 410 Penn Rd., Wynnewood, is doing very well on the Wesleyan University basketball team. Dick was an ace on the Lower Merion team when he was there, class of '44.

When the Fraternal Order of Police had its annual banquet at Overbrook Country Club last week, it had professional entertainment from WFIL. Word got back to JACK STECK, program director of the station, who decided that the hillbilly band of Patrolmen BRADY UTZ, BILL HAMILTON and the other boys was so good it should be heard over WFIL. Last night, Jack was arranging an audition for them.

Narberth is going to miss the S. HULME BROWN family of Narbrook Park. They have sold their home to the CHARLES HECKSCHERS, of Haverford, and they bought an old farmhouse up in Newtown Square where they will move at the beginning of March. Mrs. Brown was saying that they are going to turn the barn into kennels, where they can indulge in their hobby of dog training to their heart's content.

Did you know that though the Wynnewood Post Office building was bought by HARNESBERGER-MUHLI (who themselves just bought 23 E. Wynnewood Rd., for their realty business) for STEVENS L. CORTWRIGHT, also of Wynnewood, was merely an investment purchase and the Post Office will remain there at least till 1950.

Hope AL STRICKLER, he's the son of the A. B. STRICKLER, of 11 Amherst St., Bala-Cynwyd, has recovered from his "shellback" initiation when he crossed the Equator. Understand he lost all his hair when the boys shaved his head as they crossed the line. He graduated from Lower Merion in 1946, where he was a member of the soccer, track and gym teams, and then he joined the Navy. He's been to Chile and Peru, as well as many other South American countries since that time.

Hear that there was quite a stage show given over at St. Columba's School Hall up in Ardmore last Sunday when the Knights of Columbus gave "Cabaret."

FRANK MAQUIRE, of Rosemont, directed the performance, and TOM CORR, JOHN PARKS, TOM COSTIGAN, FRANCIS TOBIN, BILL LONG, HARRY MCALLISTER, JIM KELLY and JOE DUGAN took part in it. Ed Murray's orchestra furnished dance music later, and everyone had a marvelous time.

Perhaps the most heart-warming event along the Main Line took place Tuesday night when all of Narberth, and members of its neighboring communities, turned out to do honor to two famous Boro octogenarians... DR. O. J. SNYDER, who founded and fostered the Osteopathic College and Hospital of Philadelphia, and ROBERT H. DURBIN, who was advertising director of Strawbridge and Clothiers store for many years.

DR. HERBERT J. TILLY, that grand, just retired president of S. & C., was there, as was JOHN G. KECK, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the College and Hospital, both of whom toasted the honor guests that but what was so heartening was that they were both honored as prophets in their own countries, contrary to the saying.

It's hard to name all of those present, but the list included PETE MARTIN, Saturday Evening Post writer, from Wynnewood; DWIGHT PERKINS, president of S. & C., from Merion; County Commissioner FRED C. PETERS and his wife, from Ardmore; MRS. SAM MC CONNELL, wife of our Congressman, who could not get up from Washington, from Wynnewood; DR. HERBERT J. TILLY, of Cynwyd; officials of the Poor Richard Club, of which Mr. Durbin had been president; EDWIN SEVERSON, publicity director

Council Thanks

Mrs. Mueller

Her Resignation Regretfully Accepted

Borough Council has regretfully accepted the resignation of Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller as chairman of the Narberth Volunteer Emergency Relief organization.

In a letter of thanks to Mrs. Mueller, authorized at Monday night's meeting, Burgess Richard L. Miller stated that "splendid work has been done in finding relief for the needy, not only in Narberth, but also in other places by members of your organization."

The letter concluded by thanking Mrs. Mueller personally "for the great amount of time and energy which you have so wholeheartedly and sympathetically devoted to the task of helping others... the whole community owes you a debt of gratitude."

Burgess Miller's letter expressed the hope that Mrs. Mueller would be able to resume her duties as chairman of the organization in the near future and that one of her associates would act as a temporary chairman.

Frankel Still Awaiting End of Legal Action

Ephraim J. Frankel, Lower Merion builder, said this week he is willing to wait patiently until the legal fight over his proposed $1,000,000 apartment house in Merion subsides.

Two weeks ago, the Merion Civic Association filed exceptions in Norristown to Judge Harold G. Knight's decision granting Frankel the right to construct the 86-unit building at Old Lancaster Rd. and Latches Lane in Merion. Frankel said he expects the Montgomery County Court to throw out the exceptions. The Civic Association will then have 30 days in which to file an appeal in the Superior Court.

of S. & C., from Penn Valley; DR. GEORGE LETCHWORTH JR., head of the Osteopathic Hospital and JOHN H. JEFFERIES, JR., Philadelphia insurance executive from Penn Valley, were only a few of the celebrities there. Those from the Boro, itself, included JOHN J. CARRY, with whom the idea of the dinner originated, and his wife; MR. DAVIS, SR., "DOC" HOWARD, BOB CAMERON, LOU YOUNG and his wife, MR. and MRS. S. J. MC CARTNEY, JOE WHITESIDE, BOB HOBSON and his wife, RALPH DUNNE, DICK MILLER, CARL METZGER, DOUGLAS MINER, ROBERT WOOD and his wife, and many, many others. It made one feel very good to see such neighborliness in the midst of an era of suspicion and distrust.

Understand that GEORGE DIRKS, JR., son of the Lower Merion detective, is doing as well as can be expected after he was shot while he and some friends were out "hawk-shooting."

GEORGE SR. said that the last thing he said as he went out the door that morning last week was, "Goodbye, Mom, I'm going out to make a lot of money shooting hawks." There was a $10 bounty promised by the anti-hawk unit for each hawk shot, you remember.

See you next week... 'Bye for now.

ed bitter indignation at the refusal of authorities to act on the enlistment application he filed soon after Pearl Harbor.

Until recently he had been able to go to the mess hall for his meals. He was a favorite of far younger navy men recuperating in the hospital with him from the wounds of another war.

A native of New Orleans, Mr. Doll was the son of a German immigrant who, ironically enough, joined the Confederate Army and was killed at Gettysburg. At the age of nine he was already a cabin-boy on a Mississippi river steamer and, in 1862, when he was only 14, he joined Admiral Farragut's fleet, which had just taken New Orleans from the Rebels.

He took part in the Battle of Mobile Bay in 1864, and after the end of the war went on a two years' cruise in South American waters. He took his discharge in 1867, at Philadelphia.

Mr. Doll worked for several years on a farm near West Chester, and in 1870 got a job with the Pennsylvania Railroad as a repair man. He retired from the railroad in 1915 as a locomotive engineer.

In 1884 he married Miss Etta Waters, of West Chester, and the couple moved to Paoli. He moved to Narberth in 1929 to live with his daughter, Miss Jeanette Doll. Mrs. Doll died ten years ago.

Mr. Doll is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Robert N. Getty, of 261 Linden La., Merion, and Mrs. Samuel Harris of Morstein, Pa., and by a son, George Doll, of Trenton, also a railroad man.

Funeral services for Mr. Doll were held Wednesday afternoon from Oliver H. Bair's, 1820 Chestnut St., Philadelphia. Burial was in Westminster Cemetery.

Goucher Alumnae Plan Building Fund Campaign

Mrs. Baldwin Prickett, of Murrefield Rd., Bryn Mawr, and Mrs. James S. Benn, of 819 Montgomery Ave., Bryn Mawr, entertained at a tea at Mrs. Prickett's home on Tuesday, for a group of Goucher College alumnae, who met to discuss initial plans for the projected college building fund campaign in the Philadelphia area.

Among those present from the Main Line area were Mrs. Dickson Garner, of Ardmore; Mrs. Samuel Gilbert of Penn Wynne; Mrs. Walter W. Hess, of Overbrook; Mrs. James Ives, of St. Davids; Mrs. Richard J. Kilday,

Speeding Signs

Council Moves To Combat Fast Driving

Twenty-five mile per hour speed signs will be erected on four Narberth streets this week and next in a move by Council to combat speeding in the Borough.

Borough officials admitted that the speed limit in Narberth has always been 25 miles per hour, but stated they were financially unable at this time to hire any more police officers to enforce the law.

The signs, 25 of them, will be erected, they said, as an experiment to see if motorists will voluntarily cut down their speed at least on these four streets. Their next move was not announced.

The signs will be erected on N. Narberth Ave., S. Narberth Ave., Essex Ave. and Haverford Ave.

NARBERTH SCHOOL NOTES

During the November Roll Call for the American Junior Red Cross, the Narberth Public School collected $43.50.

For Christmas the children of the first through the fifth grades packed educational and health boxes. These boxes contained soap, comb, needles and thread, pencil, writing tablet, tooth paste and brush, and a little toy.

The sixth grade boys and seventh grade girls made 107 paper hats for the soldiers at Valley Forge Hospital.

In the collection of toys for needy children, 41 children's books were received to be sent to South Africa. The other toys were given to the local relief committee and to the Federation of Churches.

Miss Gassner, supervising the sixth grade boys, has been helping them make writing portfolios for convalescent veterans.

Miss Taylor and Miss Fricke have been helping the sixth grade girls make 11 stuffed animals and 10 hot water bottle covers. The girls are now making baby jackets. All these items were distributed through the Junior Red Cross, Main Line Chapter.

PATSY MCENANIM, Seventh Grade.

8 Permits Issued

Eight building permits were issued by Narberth Building Inspector George Suplee during the month of January at a total cost of $24. Work totaling $4890 was authorized.

Jr. of Bryn Mawr; Mrs. Edwin Ross, of Merion, and Mrs. John W. Ross, of Wynnewood.

Track Coach Charged With Hit And Run

Lawson Robertson, 63, Admits Leaving Scene Of Auto Accident

Lawson Robertson, Penn track coach, was held in $500 bail for court at a hearing in Lower Merion Township Building last Thursday night after he pleaded guilty to a hit-and-run charge.

Robertson, who lives at 142 Lodges Lane, Cynwyd, admitted he left the scene of an accident at Levering Mill and Ford Rds., Bala, after his car collided with that of George F. Merkel, of 523 Bryn Mawr Ave., Bala-Cynwyd. Robertson is 63 years old.

Merkel testified before Justice of the Peace Joseph Ballen, Jr., that Robertson swerved over to the wrong side of the road and smashed head-on into his car late last Tuesday afternoon. "He then backed away and drove off at a high speed," Merkel said.

"I asked a passing motorist if she knew who the driver of the car was . . . she said it was Robertson and told me where he lived," said Merkel. "She said he almost ran into her, too."

Merkel, a painter, had his assistant, Daniel J. Dwyer, of Philadelphia, as a passenger in his car. Dwyer had noted the license number of the hit-run car, and he and Merkel went to Robertson's house and identified the car by the license number.

In his testimony Robertson admitted to failing to stop at the scene of the accident. He said he did not know it was required by State law. "I was a terrible night," he said. "I put my foot on the brake, and it didn't work. I had the grippie and I wanted to get home."

Vets Offered More Courses

Classes Now Open To On-The-Job Trainees

Frank A. Dubois, superintendent of Lower Merion Schools, announced this week that the veterans program sponsored by the School District's Vocational Department, will be enlarged to include related courses for men who are in apprentice and on-the-job training.

Courses now offered for veterans are mechanical drafting, architectural drafting and electrical construction.

The new courses will include related drawing, mathematics and science, and will relate directly to the kind of job training the veteran is now receiving. Related drawing will include sketching, blueprint reading and estimating. The related mathematics will be concerned with arithmetic, algebra and trigonometry as applied to practical shop situations.

With the addition of these courses, the veterans of the Main Line will now be able to satisfy the 144-hour related instruction requirement sponsored by the Apprenticeship Council.

The new courses will be under the supervision of Russell McGrath, vocational director for the instruction will be held on March 3, 4 and 5 between 7:00 p. m. and 9:00 p. m. in McGrath's office in Lower Merion High School.

County Budget Lists $2 Million Expenditures

Overall Tax Rate Probably Will Remain Same This Year

Montgomery County plans to spend $2,244,813.12 during 1947, according to the budget now open for public inspection. It anticipates receipts of the same amount.

The budget is based on a tentative property tax levy of 1 1/4 mills on an assessed valuation of $290,000,000 and a four mill levy on personal property valued at $270,000,000.

The proposed 1 1/4 mill rate on the property tax is an increase of one-quarter mill over that of last year but it is indicated by sources close to the County Commissioners' office that it is planned to reduce the Institution District tax from one-half to one-quarter mill, so that the overall tax for this year will be the same as last year's.

The summary of estimated receipts for the year follows: Cash in bank at beginning of year, $632,569; taxes, $1328,517.12; licenses and permits, $2,000; fines and forfeits $35,000; interest and rent $2,752; departmental earnings, $228,700; sale of property, supplies and equipment, etc., $5,000; miscellaneous $10,275.

Estimated expenditures are General Government—Administrative, $826,423.60; General Government—Judicial, $350,615; Corrections, $179,633.75; Charities, $98,000; Parks, $87,000; Highways, $49,464.94; Miscellaneous, $214,370; Unpaid bills of prior years, $22,911.18; Capital outlay, $416,394.75 (this includes General Government—Administrative $73,794.75; Parks, $37,600; Highways, $105,000; and Miscellaneous $200,000).

It is estimated that the 1 1/4 mill levy will bring in $362,500 of which $54,375 is listed as uncollectible. The personal property tax levy will bring in $1,080,000 less $108,000 listed as uncollectible. Property taxes from prior years will account for $11,147.32 and from returned and liened taxes and penalties and interest, $21,500. Under the personal property tax delinquents will account for $4,244.80; special delinquent and five year payment plan, $500; unassessed, $1,000 and from estates, $10,000.

In the separate liquid fuels tax fund receipts are estimated at $452,027.58 and expenditures at the same amount.

For the first time in the history of ice hockey in Philadelphia, two teams of Canadian youngsters, ranging in age from 11 to 13 years, will meet on Arena ice next Saturday night, February 15.

They are coming here from Stratford, Ontario, hot bed of hockey, to battle in a preliminary contest to the American League Philadelphia Rockets-Providence Reds game.

One of the teams—the Juliet School Rockets of Stratford—is sponsored by the Philadelphia Arena and constitutes the first link in the Arena's fast-forming farm system.

Later, Whiting switched to Duke, where he was chosen on the All-Southern Conference five. Last fall, Whiting played end on Wesleyan's undefeated and untied football team.

SPORTS SCENE

By JACK FORD

George Drum has produced several sensational performers during his reign as Lower Merion's gymnastic coach. One of the most outstanding is Joe Rossi, now attending Penn State.

Rossi, an Army Air Force veteran, holds the Pennsylvania schoolboy record of four seconds for the 18-foot rope climb. The Penn State coach, Gene Whetstone, currently is grooming him for an attempt on the present world record of 3.8 seconds for the 20-foot college climb.

In an exhibition against University of Minnesota at Minneapolis recently, Rossi was clocked in 3.6 seconds. The present world standard, 3.8 seconds, is held by a Philadelphiaan, Charlie Lebow, who was a member of the Penn State team in 1943.

Whetstone, like Lower Merion's Drum, specializes in producing champions. He has turned out seven National AAU rope climbing titlists in the past seven seasons. The honor was won for the last three years by Steve Greene, crippled youth representing Germantown YMCA.

Another ex-Lower Merion athlete, Dick Whiting, starring for Wesleyan University basketballers at Middletown, Conn., this season. Whiting was a member of L. M.'s PIAA State championship court team in 1943.

The Main Line youth, who lives at 410 Penn Rd., Wynnewood, attended Muhlenberg for a year following his graduation from Lower Merion. His sensational shooting that year contributed to Muhlenberg's basketball victory over Penn.

Later, Whiting switched to Duke, where he was chosen on the All-Southern Conference five. Last fall, Whiting played end on Wesleyan's undefeated and untied football team.

Narberth Five Upset By Clifton Heights as Brookline Advances

By HARRY ELLSWORTH

Upsets featured Monday night's Main Line Basketball League schedule, with league-leading Narberth and second-place Coatesville both losing close ball games. Brookline, meanwhile, strengthened its hold on fourth place by beating Norristown.

Narberth, 74-56 winner over Chester Saturday, came a cropper of an aroused Clifton Heights five, dropping a heart-breaking 65-64 decision to Johnny Wise's cagers. Tom Davidson, who scored 20 points against Chester, netted over half of the Boroughites' 64 points, scoring 33 points.

Davidson's scoring performance tied Don Markward's season record, made earlier in the season by the Coatesville ace, but fell six points short of the all-time record set by Joe Lord, current Villanova College captain, while playing with Norristown last year.

Wayne's Al Roshelli found his shooting eye, scoring 18 points and leading the Raiders to a 47-59 upset win over Coatesville at Radnor High School. Wayne led, 22-18, at halftime, while practically ruining the Steelers' championship hopes.

Brookline's Poletti brothers, Bob and Bill, went wild in the second half to pace Herb Good's quintet to a 63-45 win over Norristown. Leading by 28-21 at the half, Brookline scored 20 points to take a commanding 48-32 three-quarter lead. All 20 points scored by the Brooks were contributed by Bill and Bob Poletti.

All told, Bill Poletti nabbed 25 points while brother Bob scored 11. In his previous start, the willowy Bill had netted 30 points in Brookline's 101-57 win over Clifton Heights.

The win was Brookline's fourth in a row, and placed it a full game and a half ahead of fifth-place Norristown.

Clifton Heights meets Wayne at Radnor on Thursday in this week's only remaining contest.

However, on Monday night, all eight clubs will be in action, with the spotlight swinging to Coatesville, where Lower Merion's Veterans take on Lukens Steel five.

The Vets held a 2-1 lead in the season's series, and should they beat the home team, could possibly move into second place, provided they were also able to down Clifton Heights on Wednesday.

Other Monday night fixtures list Norristown at Narberth, Chester at Clifton Heights, and Brookline at Wayne.

On Wednesday night, Lower Merion closes out its series with Clifton Heights, meeting the Wisemen at Lower Merion High School. Coatesville also journeys to Norristown on the same night.

Frank Bagnell, of Germantown, set a new Philadelphia district scoring record against Haverford by scoring 39 points on 17 field goals and five fouls.

PARENTS' PROBLEMS

Sense of 'Well Being' Needed For a Successful Marriage

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph. D.

The very cornerstone of our nation are the husband and wife, father and mother. How this cornerstone has been crumbling! No doubt you read the recent newspaper report issued by the Federal Security Agency, of a 25% rise in divorce in 1945, with a ratio of one divorce to three marriage. I keep wondering what the rate will be when my grandchildren arrive at a marriageable age. They range in age now from one month to seven years.

There are some good books which aim to show youth how to choose a mate wisely and live happily thereafter. The latest and best book of this kind was written by Dr. Clifford R. Adams and Vance O. Packard—"How To Pick A Mate: the Guide To Happy Marriage" (Dutton, N. Y.).

This fine book makes available in readable form the gist of researches in the field. It presents numerous tried-out tests which any person or marriage couple may apply with profit.

After reading this splendid book I still wished the authors had driven home more forcefully than they did the simple principle (which they frequently implied) that for success in marriage each person of the couple must keep uppermost the welfare and happiness of the mate, each looking for his own happiness through the genuine happiness of the other, each striving constantly at self-discipline to this end.

In their "After Thoughts" the authors say: "What is important is that your mate should fit into the general pattern of the kind of person you need and should be free from the really serious shortcomings we have mentioned.

"Perhaps the most important thought we can leave with you is that the person you marry should be one who will give you a sense of well-being." So far that is fine, but I wish they had added something like this: "Of course, it is equally important that the person who marries you should be one to whom you will give a sense of well-being." They really did say so in an earlier chapter.

Adams and Packard do set a precious bit of idealism in their concluding classic paragraphs: "We know a young married couple who have 'everything.' They live in a well-to-do suburb, belong to a country club and are not 'tied down' by children. They go to many parties and on week-end excursions and eat out whenever they feel like it. Yet they go about their rush of activities with the bored futility of a dog chasing his own tail.

"And we know another couple who are the kind some people would feel sorry for. They have four whooping youngsters that virtually pin them to the home-stead and make outside social life impossible. They must fight a constant battle with living costs to get ahead financially. During most of their free moments they must work about their house, up-holstering furniture, fixing leaking faucets or hanging windows. "Yet these two mates are immensely happy in marriage. They have a sense of purpose in life—a sense of well-being. They are so glad they are married to each other that they can shrug off the many irritations that beset them as unimportant. Both of them would confide to you that marriage is a wonderful, enriching experience."

Those two paragraphs might well go down through the ages.

Know Your State

The prevention of flood hazards and the protection of the important resources of wild life in the State's waters and along the banks of its streams all begin at the headwaters. The thousands of small feeding brooks that finally flow together to form our far-reaching river systems are the true source of Pennsylvania's water supply.

Many of the State's leading sportsmen's club have realized this fact, and have organized a program of water and wild life conservation which reaches back into the small creeks and rivulets of the State's wooded areas. Many sportsmen are devoting much of their spare time to this off-season program.

Fast-growing trees—birch, willow, and ash—are being planted along the banks of feeder streams in an effort to create a web of roots that will retard the rush of spring floods and hold the soil against erosion.

Small dams are being constructed, creating pools in which vegetable and animal life may once more flourish. Deflectors of rocks and logs are being constructed to retard the run-off of water after heavy rainfalls.

Streams thus improved will be brought to the attention of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission so that fine game and food fish will once more be planted in these headwaters, thus increasing the State's fishing area and removing the load from public fishing waters further down stream.

Such efforts of private agencies reflect the confidence now being felt throughout the State that the great task of improving our natural resources is at last seriously underway, and the knowledge that every citizen must do his part to assist State and local governments, if that program is to be fully effective.

LIGHTS AGLOW

Every time a customer picks up a telephone, a light comes on at the switchboard. Sometimes so many lights come on at once that the operator can't handle them all without a few seconds' wait. There simply aren't enough cords on the switchboard.

If, occasionally, your signal isn't answered promptly, we hope you'll understand. Additional switchboard equipment is on order. As soon as we can get it installed, service will be better than ever.

L.M. vs. Upper Darby; Haverford at Norristown

Last-Period Rally Enables Aces To Trip Fords, 37-31

Nearing the end of the basketball trail, Lower Merion High's courtmen will clash with Upper Darby in the Royals' gymnasium on Friday. Norristown's unbeaten title-bound team will be met in Downes Gymnasium, Ardmore, the following Tuesday evening.

Lower Merion must defeat Norristown in three seasons' second round if the Ardmore Aces hope to remain in the fight for their suburban Section One title. Earlier in the season, Norristown, which has been averaging 50 points per game, scored a decisive triumph over L. M.

It was L. M.'s first league loss, although Ollie Robinson's charges later lost to Cheltenham. They now will Norristown by two full games.

Lower Merion, which met Radnor last Tuesday night at Wayne, whipped Haverford High's second rounder in the second round.

That game, as was an earlier encounter, was closely contested.

L. M. triumphed by 37-31, thanks to a last-period surge. In their previous clash, the Ardmore Aces also won by six points.

Haverford, playing on the Brookline court, took a 9-6 lead in the first period and lengthened it to 21-14 by halftime. An upset seemed in the making. The Fords still clutched a 29-23 lead going into the last period when Lower Merion finally got going.

In the concluding quarter, L. M. amassed 14 points while the Fords selected only two—Bob Jones' old goal. Jones was Haverford's big gun all evening, scoring seven field goals and a foul for 15 points. Trickett tallied eight. Tom Davis had 12 for the Aces, and Len Shephard scored 11.

Haverford will return to the basketball wars Friday night, playing at Norristown. The Fords will meet Cheltenham at home next Tuesday evening.

Merion Withdraws From 'B' League

Merion withdrew from Section Two of the Main Line "B" Basketball League, thus forcing cancellation of its nine remaining games as West Manayunk, Phoenixville and Ardmore K. of C. waged a dog fight for the title.

West Manayunk, which has won 15 of 9 games thus far, will meet Phoenixville next Wednesday night at Haverford. Cynwyd Junior High in one of the season's most important clashes.

The Yunkers, managed by Art Lyle, scored a 37-29 triumph over Paoli Monday even though the league's leading scorer, Reds McFarland, was absent. The same evening, Mrs. McFarland gave birth to a baby boy.

VFMA Matmen Seek 14th Win

Valley Forge Military Academy wrestlers will seek their 14th triumph in 15 starts Saturday afternoon, meeting U. S. Military Academy Plebes at West Point.

Maj. Roy Phillips' matmen, who were beaten by Allentown High recently after compiling a victory streak of 12, defeated Mercersburg Academy, 21-11, in their last start. Previously, the Trojan team hadn't lost since late in the 1945 campaign.

Valley Forge fencers will meet Penn Charter away on Saturday and the swimming team invades Mercersburg Academy. Capt. William Hough's rifle team will encounter Drexel ROTC at the Philadelphia's range, also on Saturday. Next Friday night, the Trojan basketball team will play Wyoming Seminary at Wayne.

Raiders Leading YMCA Court Loop

Two Main Line YMCA basketball leagues continue in full swing with the Raiders, of the Junior League, now leading and the Explorers Senior League pacesetters. The Raiders are coached by Michael O'Neill, with Jack Kelly as captain. At forward, are Joe Ferry, Lee Foley or John Ward. Paul Lyons is center, with Thomas Finerty, Jack Kelly, Eugene Kelly, and Sam Finelli serving as guards. The Explorers are captained by William Beery, forward, with Michael O'Neill and William Kincaid at center and Brandon and Leon Brandt at guard.

Billy Lemmon Wins Title At Ardmore Rink

Billy Lemmon, 12-year-old Haverford School student, was the only Main Line entrant able to take a title in the annual Eastern Amateur figure skating championships at the Philadelphia Skating Club and Humane Society rink in Ardmore last week-end.

Lemmon, star of Haverford's 80-pound football team, lifted the boys' juvenile title for youngsters under 13. Another Philadelphia district entrant, 15-year-old Marie McClenaghan, captured the women's junior class crown.

Beating out Robert E. Goodfellow of Rye, N. Y., by a clean-cut margin, young Lemmon came through with flying colors. Lemmon is the son of Dr. William T. Lemmon, Sr., one of the world's foremost nerve surgeons.

In the men's senior singles, E. Newbold Black, Episcopal Academy's all-around athlete, placed second to Wilhelm Junker, Boston Skating Club. The 22-year-old Junker, a 76th Division veteran, stands 6-feet-3 inches and weighs 165.

The Lemmon twins, sisters of Billy, finished fourth in their respective divisions. Jane, Philadelphia women's senior champion, trailed three New Yorkers.

In the final event of the championships, concluding at 3 A. M. Sunday, a quartet from Philadelphia Skating Club captured the "Fours". The winners were Mrs. C. Bradley oyer, Mrs. W. Penn Gaskell, Henry C. Mayer, 4th and E. Newbold Black, 4th.

5 L.M. Jayvee Players "Fired"

Five Lower Merion High athletes, members of the school's junior varsity basketball team, were declared ineligible for further court competition this season on Tuesday.

Vincent V. Pearce, assistant principal, announced that school authorities had discovered the boys were playing for neighborhood independent teams. According to rigid Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association rules, they must be suspended from the school's squad.

They boys included Bill Kerigan, Nick Capelli, Joe Callahan and Dick Oliver, all of whom had been playing for Narberth Boys' Club, and Charles Wilson, of the Imperial Club.

Lower Merion's junior varsity competes in an informal basketball league, usually playing preliminary to varsity games. All of the boys involved had been considered a good nucleus for the varsity, since the reserve squad was one of the strongest in the league.

Bryn Mawr Wins Over Beaver, 26-18

Bryn Mawr College girls opened their basketball season with a 26-18 triumph over Beaver College at Beaver as Miss Gilmartin topped the victors with 12 points. Bryn Mawr took a 12-9 half-time lead and never was headed. Miss Hitchcock caged 11 points for the Main Liners. It was Beaver's first defeat this season.

Lord Retains Scoring Lead, Sets Record

Joe Lord, Villanova veteran, strengthened his grasp on the Philadelphia district basketball scoring lead last week by scoring 45 points against U. S. Maritime Academy for a new scoring record.

Lord cracked the previous high of 44 set by George Senesky, now of the Philadelphia Warriors, when he was with St. Joseph's College. Aain at Manhattan on Friday, Lord continued his spectacular pace, posting 22 points to boost his season total to 296.

In 16 games this year, he has hung up 119 field goals and 58 fouls to average 18.5 points per try. If he can continue his current pace, the ex-Army bombardier is a clinch to break the mark of 367 points which enabled La Salle's Bobby Walters to capture top honors last season.

Lord now leads in all departments, most field goals, most fouls and best average per game. Walters now has 228 points and trails Lord by 68. La Salle's Larry Foust and Bob McCann are tied for third with 169 each.

Midget Boxing Bouts Listed

The first annual Delaware County midget boxing exhibition, the first such county-wide affair ever to be sponsored here, will be staged on Wednesday, March 12, at the Yeaton Borough Hall.

Approximately 15 to 25 bouts, representing an estimated dozen County boys' organizations, will be staged.

The exhibition is being arranged by Matthew J. Zabitzka, County Juvenile Probation Officer, with the assistance of Andrew Reeder, of Yeaton, supervisor and counselor of the Yeaton Boys' Club; Thomas J. Luglio, of the Upper Providence Boys' Club; John Juntr, president of the Linwood A. A., and Tony Lanahan, St. James High School senior who hails from Media.

No boys lighter than 50 pounds or heavier than 130 pounds shall be permitted to box. Only boys up to and including 15 years are being accepted. All participants must be attached to a club. A bout will be made up of three one-minute rounds, with one minute rest between rounds.

Each boy entered shall receive an appropriate certificate suitable for framing. Team prizes and individual awards are now being collected from interested donors.

Bala-Cynwyd Bowls Over Little Fords

By JAMES M. IRWIN

The Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School basketball team beat Haverford Junior High last Friday on the winners' court, 20-16.

Bill Crowell, of Bala-Cynwyd, was high scorer with 16 points. This was the second time this season the Knights have triumphed over Haverford.

Thomas and Coggeshall, of Bala-Cynwyd, were lost on personal fouls in the last half, as was Umeille, of Haverford.

Haverford staged a last-quarter rally but fell short of the Knights, who failed to score in the last period.

L. Merion Athletes On Radio Program

High school basketball stars from Lower Merion and Norristown will be interviewed by Tom Moorehead and Jack Ryan on the Jacob Reed Schoolboy Sports Show on WFIL this Saturday, at 7:00 P. M.

The studios will be open to students from both schools who will be led in their school songs and cheers.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HOME WIRING AND A HUNGRY SNAKE?

The snake is fortunate. His jaws and body can stretch to accommodate food, even when the size of his prey is larger than his mouth. Thus, the fortunate snake gets all the food he needs—in spite of his small body.

Your electrical wiring isn't so lucky. Home appliances need "food," too, in the form of electricity, but when your wiring is inadequate, it can't stretch like the snake to give your appliances all the "food" they need.

The electric appliances that you've added to your home over the years—and will continue to add—call for increased wiring. If your wiring hasn't been brought up to date in the past ten years, let your local electrician prepare your home for the added conveniences of tomorrow's Electric Living.
